

Strength for the Journey

“New City People”

Notes:

2. The fifth habit of those who are passionate about heaven is that we are wise, living as though this were our last day on earth. In Psalm 90:12, we read this prayer: “Teach us to number our days aright, that we may gain a heart of wisdom.” How would you live if this were your last day on Earth?

Strength through Prayer:

Spend a few moments in prayer. Tell the Lord you want to be the kind of person who knows about heaven and who cherishes His promise to come to take us there.

You may want to begin your prayer with these words:

“Lord Jesus, I do want to be passionate about heaven and live out these five highly motivated habits. Help me to be undistracted and confidently riveted on Your return and on heaven. Help me to be ready for Your return with a pure heart. Help me not to get stuck in this world. Help me to live and lean toward what is ahead and invest in eternal things. Help me to live as if this were my last day on Earth.”

Closing Call to Action:

Take the five habits we’ve learned (if you need to, go back and write them down). Use these five habits as a measurement point for your life. Be specific about how you can apply these habits in your life today; and keep track of your progress.

As a closing action point: How would your life be different today if you knew Jesus Christ would be back by six o’clock? Make a commitment to incorporate those changes—and then live like this was your last day on Earth.
